MARION LAWRENCE TO ATTEND STATE S. S. CONVENTION

GREAT SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER WILL BE AT ANNUAL MEETING IN HIGH POINT IN APRIL—OTHER PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM—MUSIC BY BUTLER.

The news that Marion Lawrence, who has been called "America's Sunday School Leader," will be present at the sessions of the annual convention of the North Carolina Sunday School Association to be held in High Point on April 26-28, inclusive, will be read with delight by Sunday school workers throughout the entire state. Another fact that will be of interest to many is that the music will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Charles U. Butler, who assisted in revival services at the Christian church a few weeks ago.

This gathering of Sunday school workers promises to be one of the largest ever assembled in the state and the leaders are confident that the results will mean a substantial increase along all lines of Sunday school work during the year to follow. In addition to the above named workers there will be many prominent men and women who will have a part on the program during the three days that the convention is in session.

The High Point people have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of the visitors during their stay in the city and a royal time is promised all who attend. Each county is entitled to a delegate from each township in addition to the officers of the county. However, all workers are invited to attend whether delegates or not.

A goodly portion of the time will be taken up in round table discussions under the direction of efficient workers in the several departments of the work. Among those who will have these conferences and round table discussions are Organized Adult Class work, T. B. Eldridge, Raleigh; County and Township officers—Marion Lawrence; General Sunday School Problems—Marion Lawrence; Teacher Training—Marion Lawrence; Elementary work—Mrs. E. R. Michaux.

Those who are on the program for addresses are: Rev. R. M. Andrews, Henderson, "The Value of a Vision;" Rev. Chas. W. Byrd, Asheville, "The Material of which the Church is built, and How to Prepare it;" Marion Lawrence, "The Sunday School and Missions;" Rev. B. W. Spillman, field secretary Sunday school board, Southern Baptist Convention, "How the Interdenominational work can help the Denominational work;" Marion Lawrence, "Organization for Evangelization;" Rev. B. W. Spillman, "The Sunday School as a School;" Dr. W. J. Martin, Davidson College, "Object of and Motive for Christian Service;" Rev. B. W. Spillman, "Jesus Making Truth Clear;" Marion Lawrence, "What Shall the Harvest Be?"

Rev. R. M. Andrews, of Henderson, is president of the association, J. Van Carter, of Raleigh, is general secretary and Miss Maud Reid, of Raleigh, is office secretary.

Statesville, March 16.—Frank Brown, a notorious blockader who has been a fugitive from justice for about six years, is today safely confined in Statesville jail in default of $2,000 bond to await trial at the next term of Federal court here. ## EXPLOSION OF OIL CAUSES HEAVY LOSS IN FRISCO.

WHITSON HOPES TO SECURE A PARDON

MAN WHO WAS SERVING THIRTY YEAR SENTENCE WHEN ESCAPE WAS EFFECTED FROM NORTH CAROLINA PENITENTIARY, BROUGHT BACK TO THIS STATE.

Raleigh, March 16.—Warden T. P. Sale, of the State's prison, returned tonight, bringing T. B. Whitson from Lexington, Ky., where he was arrested last week after living there for several years. Whitson while serving a thirty year sentence in the penitentiary escaped fifteen years ago and nothing further was heard of him until last week. Whitson talks freely of himself and says he hopes to secure a pardon from the governor. During his residence in Lexington he amassed a considerable fortune and bore the reputation of being an upright, well behaved citizen. His capture was brought about through betrayal of an old friend whose enmity he had incurred in a business deal.

Kirkman Funeral Largely Attended

The largest assemblage ever gathered at Friendship Methodist church was present yesterday morning at 11 o'clock to attend the funeral of Rev. Abel G. Kirkman, whose death occurred on Tuesday night. The services were quite simple, but nevertheless impressive and many eyes were flooded with tears at the thought that one of the county's best known citizens was to be seen no more.

The services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Ware, presiding elder, assisted by Revs. Bowles, Dawson, Barber and Albert Peele, the latter of the Friends church. The pall-bearers were W. C. Boren, J. N. Wilson, J. W. Merritt, W. E. Cummings, Rev. Pegram, G. H. McKinney, H. L. Hobbs, J. W. Cook.

The county offices were closed from 10 to 12 o'clock, many of the county officials being present to attend the funeral. The officers and clerks sent a handsome floral design. The Greensboro National Bank was closed yesterday in honor of the memory of the deceased, who was a director of the institution.

C. E. Worker to Tour State

Beginning Wednesday night, March 22, Rev. C. H. Hubbell, secretary of Young People's Work of the Methodist Protestant church, will visit a number of cities and towns in the state in the interest of the Christian Endeavor work, the campaign being preliminary to the meeting of the State Union of Christian Endeavor at Burlington March 31, April 2.

While Mr. Hubbell is not scheduled for an address in Greensboro an effort is being made to have him come here directly after the close of the state meeting. Asheville is also desirous of having this active worker speak before the young people of that city.

REV. MELTON CLARK WILL PREACH TO MEN SUNDAY NIGHT.

At the First Presbyterian church Sunday night the pastor will preach to men. The following announcement has been issued:

"The men of the First Presbyterian church are going to assemble for service young and old, are invited to attend on Sunday night. All of the men, The pastor will make a brief address on 'The Man of Today in the Church,' and brief addresses will be made by others on various lines of church activity. You are urged to be present."

DEATH AT MT. AIRY.

Mt. Airy, March 16.—Mrs. F. P. Sparger, one of Mt. Airy's most popular young married ladies, died suddenly Wednesday morning. The funeral service was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Sparger married only a year ago and she is survived by a husband, father and mother and several other relatives. Prior to her marriage she taught in the graded school at Mt. Airy for two years.

St. Patrick's Day.

Today, March 17, is generally known as St. Patrick's day and in Greensboro the shamrock will be seen on the lapels of the coats of many citizens.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND THEN SUICIDED

Henry H. Powell, Hotel Man of Sanford, Shot at H. C. Smith And D. E. McIver In Crowded Union Station at Raleigh.

BELIEVING HE HAD KILLED BOTH MEN, POWELL THEN SUICIDED

Powell's Mind Was Probably Unbalanced by Brooding Over Fancied Troubles—Smith And McIver Both Prominent, The Latter Cousin of Former President of State Normal College.

Raleigh, N. C., March 16.—In the crowded waiting room of the Union depot this afternoon Henry H. Powell, proprietor of the Sanford Inn, Sanford, N. C., called Charles H. Smith and Duncan E. McIver to him, and as they approached, like a flash he drew a pistol and began firing upon them. One bullet inflicted a flesh wound in Smith's right arm. The bullet aimed at McIver narrowly missed him and several bystanders.

Evidently thinking he had killed both men, Powell placed the weapon under his right ear and blew out his brains, falling in a heap on the tile floor.

The shooting created intense excitement and ladies fainted and men hurried to places of safety.

Powell's mind had become unbalanced from brooding over a rumor that Smith and McIver were planning to erect a rival hotel at Sanford.

Powell was an ex-Confederate veteran. He is survived by a widow and several children. Smith is president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and is a successful lumberman. McIver is one of the best known lawyers in his section and has held public office. He is a first cousin of the late Dr. Charles D. McIver of this city.

Finance Committee of Y. M. C. A. Asks For Funds Subscribed

The Y. M. C. A. finance committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon to arrange for payments on the contract for the Y. M. C. A. building as the work progresses.

There is immediate need of about two thousand dollars and those who subscribed to this fund are asked to make prompt payment as the subscriptions were taken in good faith and the money counted on when the contract was made.

Most of the subscribers, it is stated, are paying promptly, but there are a few who are inclined to defer payment of their notes unreasonably and this is embarrassing to those who have the matter in charge and who were counting upon a continuation of the splendid spirit shown during the campaign.

The public is requested to remit such amounts as are now due to F. C. Boyles, cashier of Commercial National Bank, who is the treasurer, or to make payment promptly to the collector as the handsome building is going up rapidly and must be paid for as construction goes forward.

VICE-PRESIDENT TO BE GUEST OF HIBERNIANS.

Charleston, S. C., March 16.—Arrangements have been completed by the joint committee representing the city and the Hibernian Society for the informal entertainment of Vice President Sherman, who will arrive here tomorrow, to be the guest of honor and a principal speaker at the annual banquet, in honor of St. Patrick tomorrow evening, of the Hibernian Society. Governor Bleasie will also come for the occasion and it is probable that he and the Vice President will be together much of the time.

Try discounting your burdens by counting your blessings.

DEPARTMENTS FOR AGRICULTURE AND DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Boys And Girls of Guilford High Schools to be Taught Farming And Home-making--The Farmlife School Law.

Below is printed a copy of the bill enacted into law at the recent legislature whereby the County Board of Education is empowered to establish in connection with the high schools in the county departments for instructing the students in agriculture and in domestic science and home economics.

It is the hope of the hope of the board of education to add these departments to two or more schools next year if possible. This new departure in school work has been greatly encouraged by the members of the Farmers' Union and this organization stands ready to assist in the carrying out of the plans. The bill provides that the county shall first furnish the necessary buildings, laboratories and apparatus necessary for the students in their work and shall appropriate annually a sum not exceeding $2,500 for the support of the schools. The State is to duplicate such amount as shall be appropriated by the county. The bill follows:

The general assembly of North Carolina do enact: Section 1. That there shall be maintained in one or more of the public high schools of Guilford county complying with the provisions of this act, as hereinafter set forth, a department of agricultural instruction and a department of training in domestic science and home economics in order to better prepare the boys and girls of said county for farm life and home-making.

The new officers will be installed on the fifth Thursday in March. The chapter is in a flourishing condition and the membership is steadily increasing. At the preceding meeting there were six applications and two last night. These will probably be initiated next meeting night.

Taft is Playing Golf in Georgia

Augusta, Ga., March 16.—President Taft went early to the links of the Country Club today for his usual round of 18 holes of golf. The weather was clear and chilly.

Mr. Taft has spent little or no time in his improvised executive offices during the past two or three days. Secretary Norton also has felt the call of the open and has been on the golf course daily. Long motor rides fill the afternoons. Yesterday the odometer on the President's car registered a total of 60 miles.

It is certain that the President will not act in the pardon cases of C. W. Morse and John R. Walsh until after his return to Washington next Monday. The President this afternoon will have a conference with Clark Howell, editor of The Atlanta Constitution and his brother Albert Howell, Jr., on the subject of second class postage rates, with especial reference to magazines.

Real Estate Business Active

The real estate market is becoming more active as spring approaches. During the past few days the following transfers have been recorded in the office of the register of deeds:

C. W. Bowers to C. S. Murphy, lots in High Point, consideration $1,400.

John R. Ingle to E. J. Justice, 142-acre farm in Rock Creek township, consideration $1,900.

I. W. Burrow to L. H. Hortly, 78-acre farm in Washington township, consideration $1,200.

Lewis Morton to Martin Douglas, farm in Jefferson township, consideration $350.

John A. Hodgins, et al., to C. B. Hester, lot on Spring Garden street, consideration $900.

13 Killed in Collapse of Building

Nashville, Tenn., March 16.—While the searchers are busy at the J. H. Fall building, the walls of which collapsed yesterday during a high wind, killing 12 negroes and one white man and injuring 14, all hope of taking any other workmen out alive has been abandoned. It is believed that probably eight or ten bodies will be recovered. It is claimed that half a dozen negro workmen were observed near the center of the building where the debris is thickest, just a few minutes before the crash came. It is also understood that probably several idlers and onlookers who usually hang about such places talking to the workmen, were caught by the walls.

WILL SETTLE TO THE ROADS.

Will Settle, colored, was given a hearing in Municipal Court yesterday morning on the charge of larceny. He was found guilty and sent to the roads for a period of four months.

Mrs. Carrie Nation is Seriously Ill

Leavenworth, Kas., March 16.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the militant Kansas temperance worker who is at a sanitarium here is gradually growing weaker. Her condition, which is due to a general breakdown, is regarded as serious. None of her mail is given her but is forwarded to a daughter in Kansas City, who is managing her mother's business affairs.

TOBACCO FOR HOOKWORM.

Did you know that tobacco is a good remedy for hookworm?

Now this may be true and it may not be, yet The Sentinel has a story from a reputable physician that would indicate that the weed will cure a case of the new disease.

This doctor, says that he was attending a little girl in an adjoining county. Her condition was serious and the physician had not been able to diagnose the case to his satisfaction—that is, tell the real cause of the child's illness. One morning when he called at the home he was greeted by the mother, who asked:

"Doctor, do you suppose it would hurt that girl to take a chew of tobacco?"

The physician, after a moment's consideration, replied: "I don't think so—let her have it."

"I just thought that the patient was going to die anyhow and I did not see how nor why the little one's craving for a chew would shorten her life," said the doctor.

Reaching under the pillow on the bed, the patient drew out a plug of the weed and she took a big chew and the doctor watched her as she lay in bed, chewed and spat. The girl enjoyed it and when the physician called the next day to see the patient he discovered signs of improvement. In a week she was able to get up and today she is enjoying excellent health.

"I feel confident now that the girl had hookworm and I believe that the tobacco was responsible for her restoration to health," said the doctor relating the above story.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

THE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

Publishing a newspaper is a matter of business, first of all. The newspaper office is a business house and the newspaper business does not differ in any essential particular from the business of conducting a bank, of merchandising, or engaging in some line of manufacturing. The time was when most men engaged in newspaper publishing did not have very clearly defined ideas about this matter and when the views of the public in regard to the business conduct of newspapers were heavily clouded and extremely indefinite. Happily for the newspapers and for the public, that period has passed; except, perhaps, in a few backward communities where the country weekly newspaper is yet conducted on the ancient plan of swapping papers for turnip greens and stove wood.

Newspapers are published primarily for the purpose of disseminating news—the news of the community, State, nation and world—and business news, or advertising. The newspaper has but two sources of income—subscription income and advertising income. The newspaper publisher sells newspapers and advertising space, and nothing else—if he is honest and his paper is worthy of the confidence and respect of the public. The honest newspaper does not sell its opinions or influence or its advocacy of policies or principles; nor does it engage in "grafting." Consequently its revenue comes from two sources alone, the sale of advertising space and the sale of papers.

Even at this late day, and in communities where the vast majority of people have learned to conduct their business dealings with the merchant, the manufacturer and the professional man strictly according to business rules, many people are to be found who have no conception of the fact that business rules must be applied to the publishing of a newspaper. Apparently, they regard a newspaper as a public packhorse, maintained free for anyone who cares to use it; or a public dray line, run for the public benefit and conducted free of charge by its philanthropic publisher. Many of these people are good folks, and their attitude is due to the fact that they have never given the business of publishing a newspaper a thought and do not realize that the publisher is a business man. Some people who act in this way are deadbeats, and they ply their trade among other people as well as among newspaper men. The latter class is not worth the newspaper publisher's smallest consideration, but the first mentioned class is composed of people who ought to do business with the newspaper and with whom the newspaper will always be pleased to do business, if they can be made to understand the fairness and justness of the newspaper publisher's position.

Would you go into the store of a merchant and ask him to make you a present of any amount of his stock, large or small? Assuredly you would not. The merchant has merchandise for sale and he maintains his business and makes a living by selling it at a profit.

The newspaper's stock in trade consists of but two articles—papers and advertising space. The newspaper must sell these in order to make expenses, to earn interest on its investment and to make a profit for its owners. In view of this fact, can you who pay the merchant for his goods, consistently ask the newspaper man to give you his goods?

You pay the lawyer for his services, the doctor for his services, you pay every man who has something to sell for his wares or his services. Is the newspaper publisher, who has his money invested in his business and who gives largely of his services to maintain it, entitled to nothing for his wares and for his services? Must he be the only man in the community who works for nothing?

No newspaper publisher asks the public to pay for the insertion of news. News is sold after it is placed in the paper; but no one who furnishes news is required to pay for its insertion. Newspapers are always anxious to secure news and appreciate any assistance given them in news gathering; but the newspaper man dislikes to have people try to get advertising inserted in the paper under the guise of news. The newspaper man must be the judge of what is advertising and what is news. In fact, in all well regulated newspaper offices, the line between news and advertising is very carefully drawn; for the purpose, on the one hand, of preventing the newspaper from being imposed upon, and in the other case in order that nothing entitled to a place as news shall be charged for.

When you are tempted again to ask the newspaper man for free space for something which is clearly advertising, just remember that the publishing of a newspaper is strictly a matter of business and that the newspaper has but two commodities for sale—space and papers. The newspaper cannot afford to give either away. It must sell both, and sell at a profit. To do otherwise would put the business in bankruptcy, where newspapers conducted in any but a business-like manner never fail to land.

At the same time you might ponder the fact that it is a blessing to our community to have a newspaper conducted in a business way, just as it is fortunate for the community if it has progressive stores and sound business concerns in other lines. The only kind of newspaper which can be successfully and continuously maintained nowadays and which will be a force in the community and of positive help to any town or city, is the paper with sound business policies, which charges a fair price for its products and is making a fair profit for its owners.

Success in any avenue of effort is not an accident, despite the fact that the man who fails usually feels that it is.

Why do they call 'em harem skirts? Trousers seems to be the accurate descriptive word.

The people of Wilmington should have made it unanimous for commission government. A motion to that effect is now in order.

The fellow who tried to borrow money from a bill collector who came around to make a collection, was a first cousin to Nervo, the Monk.

If clothing makes the man, the Philadelphia Record would like to know what the result of wearing the harem costume is to be.

Wilmington followed Greensboro in adopting commission government. Now watch Raleigh, Asheville and Winston-Salem fall in line.

Pennsylvania man kicked a mule and dislocated two of his toes on the animal's ribs. A Missourian would have known better than to use anything softer than a club on a mule.

An anxious subscriber wants to know when the harem skirt may be expected to make its initial appearance in Greensboro. Anxious subscriber can probably secure the desired information by consulting some of the ladies.

The Columbia State praises Boston for that city's opposition to the erection of a statue in honor of the late General Benjamin H. Butler, which shows that South Carolina people still detest the memory of Butler.

Says the Goldsboro Argus: "John Temple Graves declares that Joe Bailey is the greatest forensic orator who ever served in Congress." The opinion of a hot air orator like John Temple is not worth much in a case of this nature.

The harem skirt has been barred in Suffolk, Va. Suffolk may be regarded in some quarters as an out-of-date town, but Suffolk ideas about clothes for women are all right in so far as they relate to harem skirts.

The surprising thing about Champ Clark's Chicago interview, to those thick headed people who do not understand the genial Missouri Democrat's fondness for a joke, is that he advised young men to go South and go to work instead of going down to annex Mexico.

In Norfolk an alderman named Cowper resigned and his resignation contained three words—"I hereby resign." Brevity has never been associated with poetry and it is evident that this Norfolk citizen is making no effort to sustain the reputation of the Cowper family.

For a gentleman who so thoroughly grasps the military unpreparedness of this country, Congressman Hobson is keeping very quiet nowadays. It must be admitted, however, that Congressman Hobson, like most other citizens of the nation, was not anticipating an attack from the quarter in which Mexico is situated.

A Cold, LaGrippe, then Pneumonia. Is too often the fatal sequence. Foley's Honey and Tar expels the cold, checks the lagrippe, and prevents pneumonia. It is a prompt and reliable cough medicine that contains no narcotics. It is as safe for your children as yourself. Howard Gardner.

WHAT NORTH CAROLINA EDITORS ARE SAYING.

The Way to Pay for Good Roads.
Our taxable property is not high enough, our industries are not great enough, and our farms are not sufficiently developed and rural districts are too sparsely settled for us to think about keeping our noses to the grindstone by taxing ourselves and paying as we go for good roads. The way to get good roads is by a bond issue and we will have the good roads, and our children will have them too. The county will develop so rapidly that our children can and will pay for these good roads and will never realize it.—Asheboro Citizen.

4,448 Population for Mount Airy.
While the official census of Mount Airy has not been given out and there is no assurance that the government will soon give out the figures gathered by its enumerators but the city authorities now in possession of facts that truly tell the story of the city's population. More than a month ago the city board of aldermen employed E. H. Wrenn to take a complete census of the city and on yesterday he turned over his books to the authorities after completing his work.

His figures show, and they are absolutely correct, that in the city limits there are 4,448 people divided as follows: Whites 3,715 and colored 731. Ten years ago there were in the city 2,664 people and this gives an increase of 1,784 in population.—Mt. Airy Leader.

A Good Beginning.
As appears in a note elsewhere, Rev. W. M. Curtis has made a good beginning on the new dormitory and it is gratifying that this first pledge comes from Greensboro. The plan upon which this work has been projected is an admirable one and we hope to see the various churches falling in and providing for individual rooms. It is significant that of the three rooms now provided for one is the gift of one lady who as a friend of the education of our women sets this good example, which we hope many more will imitate. What could contribute more to one's happiness than to know that by the investment of $500 he has made shelter for two more of our worthy girls at Greensboro Female College? It will be easy for many to do this, requiring only $125 every six months for two years.—North Carolina Christian Advocate.

Should Have Been Properly Divided.
When the city court matters are settled for Guilford county the bill directed to enlarge the court at Greensboro, will have been defeated because it is an unconstitutional measure—High Point will have an extended jurisdiction only one mile from its city limits, while Greensboro's court will fall back on two townships—Morehead and Gilmer. With all the support experienced legislators on deck, with the urgent recommendations from the Guilford county grand jury for court relief, directed towards a great county—the only county in North Carolina which has two cities exceeding 10,000 population and is entitled to two equally divided court districts—we fell down, and badly so, irrespective of any excuse that may be offered. We have had too much "horse play" resulting in no material aid whatever to speak of towards the relief of the old congested condition of the Guilford county court docket—and so far as this city is concerned, we did not ask for extended jurisdiction covering the township—a thing which should have been done—but being satisfied with only one mile. Greensboro on the other hand took in two townships and made a bid for the county at large.

Surely a mistake has been made by not having a conference concerning the proper division of Guilford into two respective judicial districts with proper divisional court machinery at High Point and Greensboro.

A Fierce Night Alarm
is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages fly before it, 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by Farris-Klutznick Drug Co.

Big Man Missing.
New York, March 16.—Police are searching for George Lanz, of Canada, 7 feet 4 inches, who has been missing since February 27.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS
Neutralize and remove the poisons that cause backache, rheumatism, nervousness and all kidney and bladder irregularities. They build up and restore the natural action of these vital organs. Howard Gardner.

FINES THEM EACH A KISS.

Judge Orders Couple to "Make Up" in the Courtroom.

New York, March 16.—Before Recorder Hugh H. Mara yesterday in Bayonne, N. J., Mrs. Mary Gall charged her husband, Alexander, of No. 77 West Forty-third street, with failing to support her and with threatening to shoot her. He denied the charges.

"Judge, the first month we were married I took home my salary, $85, and handed it all except fifteen cents to my wife," said Gall. "I used the fifteen cents for tobacco. She called me names because I kept the fifteen cents. Then she wouldn't kiss me."

"Mrs. Gall," said the Recorder, "do you love your husband?"

"Of course I love him," she replied.

"Alexander, do you still love Mary?" the Recorder inquired of Gall.

"I love her after all," was the answer.

Then the Recorder ordered them to kiss, make up and go home. They did all three things.

"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I ever used as it quickly stopped a severe cough that had long troubled me," says J. W. Kuhn, Princeton, Neb. Just so quickly and surely it acts in all cases of coughs, colds, lagrippe and lung trouble. Refuse substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Bear Dies of Broken Heart.

New York, March 16.—Old Ben, the oldest bear in the Bronx Zoo, died of a broken heart, attendants say, following the removal from his cage of his female mate.

A Mother's Saviour

Foley's Honey and Tar for the children. Is best and safest for all coughs, colds, croup, whooping-cough and bronchitis. No opiates. Howard Gardner.

Fate of Pins.

By a series of experiments conducted on his estate a French investigator has discovered that pins go the way of all flesh and are resolved into dust. Hairpins which the experimenter watched for 154 days disappeared at the end of that time, having been resolved into a ferrous oxide, a brownish rust, which was blown away by the wind. Bright pins took nearly eighteen months to disappear, polished steel needles nearly two years and a half; brass pins had but little endurance; steel pens at the end of fifteen months had nearly gone, while their wooden holders were still intact.—Harper's Weekly.

The Exception.

In a home where the mother is somewhat aggressive and the father good natured and peace loving a child's estimate of home conditions was tersely expressed the other day. While dressing the mother paused in the act of putting on her shoes and said:

"I certainly am easy on shoes. I have worn these for four months. I don't know what you would do, John, if I were not. I am easy on everything."

The little girl looked up from her dolls and remarked, "Except father."—Success.

Doing His Best.

Mrs. Blueblood—John, who was that man who just bowed to us?
Blueblood—Er—that is my tailor.
Mrs. Blueblood—Such insolence! You should make him keep his distance.

Blueblood—I've done my best, my dear. I've stood him off now for two years.—Boston Transcript.

GLASON.

In Our Window Will Be Explained Monday Night at 8:30 O'clock.

In displaying Glason in our window we have practiced a deceit. But have we? Of course, that is a point to which we do not yet plead guilty. But even in causing conjecture—we have done that which is not in the program of our policies.

Ours is such a straight and narrow path of honest purpose—in our advertising columns—in our merchandising—in our popularizing—that we needs must explain—but then we cannot without telling.

Just a little entertainment to attract you as you pass—to prove more particularly that even as we buy and sell—we do not think that business after all is such a serious matter—not our business. "A little nonsense now and then"—you know.

USEFUL NOVELTIES

Portable Refrigerators That Come In Several Sizes.

LATEST FAD IN CHINA.

Silver Deposit Ware Which Is Delicate and Fairlylike, but Rather Expensive. Artistic Collapsible Sewing Stand For the Needlewoman.

If you care to spend the money there are any number of ways in which you can make housekeeping a joy and a comfort. For instance, should you live in an apartment or just plain flat, you will find a portable refrigerator useful. These are small boxes of zinc that will not exude moisture and retain the cold. They are provided with a handle and stout clasp to be easily carried and are small enough to stow in out of the way places.

These refrigerators come in several sizes, with an inner compartment to hold ice. The smallest will hold several bottles and is useful for a mother who otherwise would have to go to the large refrigerator in the middle of the night for baby's food.

On cold winter nights such a refrigerator is much better than setting food or drinks for an invalid on an outer window shelf. There is not the danger of freezing.

On a motor trip one of these portable ice holders is invaluable and should be owned by those who tour.

For sickroom use there is another refrigerator the height of a chair seat and eighteen inches long. It can be had in various woods, zinc lined, and with commodious compartments. This has no handle, as it is a part of the furniture not to be carried. Then for the table there is the latest fad in china ware, deposit porcelain, a beautiful addition to one's china collection. This ware is almost fairlike in its daintiness of shape and in the delicate effect of the white silver on the white china. There are cups, jars, jugs and plates of the new silver deposit ware, and the illustration shows an almond basket, a jelly dish, a flat handled cake dish and a cracker jar.

The silver is applied to the eggshell china by a special process, and the pieces are, of course, rather high priced.

The collapsible sewing stand is another useful novelty for the woman who is handy with her needle. And the stand pictured is both pretty and practical. It consists of two sections and is made of heavy green crash tacked over a frame measuring 5½ by 2½ feet. On the inside are little brass books and a collapsible shelf covered with cretonne, and two large pockets at the base are also of the cretonne. A small pocket at the top for odds and ends of sewing is convenient. Other pockets are for buttons, and there are a pincushion and a needlebook, both of the dainty cretonne.

COLLAPSIBLE SEWING STAND.

A Hint About Knives.

Knives should never be dipped in hot water, as it loosens the handles. The blades may be placed upright in the water in a mug, by which plan the handles will be kept dry. Steel knives that are not in general use may be kept from rusting if they are dipped in a strong solution of soda (one part water to four parts soda). Then wipe dry, roll in flannel and keep in a dry place.

The Retort Sarcastic.

Dr. Scott, joint parent with Liddell of the well known Greek lexicon, was at one time master of Balliol college, Oxford university, and master at all times of quiet sarcasm.

A noble lord who had rooms in the buildings which adjoined the master's house and who, contrary to regulations, kept a dog in college went to complain of the noise made by cats. After he had expatiated for some little time on this grievance
Dr. Scott said, with the gentle, slow drawl which lent additional force to his smiles:

"Is that a cat, Lord Donoughmore, that I hear barking on your staircase every night?"

need fixing, and I want you to do a good job, use good leather, and if the heels need another lift—

THE RECORD-BREAKER.

"I WANT to make the fastest time,"
The aviator said.
"Of any one that ever yet
Has traveled overhead."
And then he donned the leather togs
The men birds have to wear
And tuned the little motor up
And mounted in the air.

HE soared above the fleecy clouds
And sailed around the sky
Till something broke, and like a rock
He fell from regions high.
"Oh, did I make the fastest time?"
He asked of Dr. Brown.
And this is what the doctor said:
"You did, sir—coming down!"
—Minna Irving.

EASTERN NIGHT.

The world lies silent under the stars.
No echo comes from the hushed bazaars.
Only a wind stirs faint and free
Through the velvet palms by a moon washed sea.

The world lies silent under the stars.
Golden Venus and rose flushed
Mars.
And the little waves shiver and tremble and beat
Like a tiny pulse on the sands at my feet.

Then through the night the sound of a flute.
Sweeter than viol or harp or lute,
Murmurs its secrets to the stars
Out of the hush of the dim bazaars.
—Westminster Gazette.

RICHES AND GREATNESS.

DON'T want to be rich if riches bring pride
And turn me from those who are now
by my side.

If having wealth means I must wander afar
From the quiet of home where the shining lights are
And must learn how to sneer at the humble who toll
And mock at the man who is tilling the soil.

If I must be haughty because of success,
Judge my brother alone by the cut of his dress,
Shut my door against those whom I welcome today
Because they have less cold, hard cash
than I say,
I don't want to be rich.

I don't want to be great if real greatness is just
Being petted and jollied by men I don't trust.

Being boosted by men who have axes to grind
And leaving the friends who are true far behind.

If greatness means nothing but flourish
and pomp,
With no time to play with the children
and romp,
No kisses from lips ruby red and no arms
Plump and dimpled thrown round me—I say, if these charms
Must go out of my life, yes, if I must resign
The joys that I have and the pleasures
now mine
I don't want to be great.

THE REAL TEST OF STRENGTH.

WHO is the strong? Not he who puts to test
His strength with the strong and proves the best.

But he who dwells where weak-
lings congregate
And never lets his splendid strength abate
Who is the good? Not he who walks each day
With moral men along the high, clean way.

But he who jostles gilded sin and shame
Yet will not sell his honor or his name.
Who is the wise? Not he who from the start
With wisdom's followers has taken part.
But he who looks in Folly's tempting eyes
And turns away, perceiving her disguise.

Who is serene? Not he who flees his kind
Some desert fastness or some cave to find.
But he who in the city's noisiest scene
Keeps calm within—he only is serene.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

BIRTH OF THE SNOWDROP.

Darkness descends; the winter day is dying.
The pale stars coldly gleam.
Out o'er the moor the wintry winds are crying.

I hear as in a dream
A moan, a sigh, then silence, and I turn
To watch the pine logs burn.

The night is past; the dawn is dimly burning;
The world is white with snow;
Yet through the new dim light, so softly turning,
Shy petals to and fro
Wave slowly, and I know the yearning earth
To snowdrops pure gave birth.

—Pall Mall Gazette.

A FRIEND.

I DIDN'T know it then,
For I couldn't understand,
But were he to come again
I should like to clasp his hand,
And were he to find me here
I should like to let him know
That the years have made it clear
How I wronged him long ago.

With the hot blood of my youth
And its rosy, golden glow
I can speak it now, in truth,
I looked on him as a foe.
For he checked me when he could,
And he foiled my dearest plan,
And I never understood
For I grew to hate the man.

Others flattered when they came,
Others loudly spoke my praise,
But he saw my plan was lame,
And he tried by many ways
To convince me I was wrong.
I was blind and couldn't see,
Still believing all along
That he really hated me.

But the years have passed since then
And today I understand,
Oh, were he to come again
I should like to clasp his hand!
All the flatterers have gone,
And, now I am near the end,
Of them all he was the one
Who was honestly my friend.

—Detroit Free Press.

THE CLEW.

LIFE is a clearing in a wood
Where the stars midnight the soul—
thrush—
Bathes in the beam and finds it good,
Peoples with song the solitude,
Then, singing, dares the dark, the hush,
—William Roscoe Thayer.

Any school applying for the benefits to be derived under this act shall first provide a building with recitation room, laboratories, and apparatus necessary for efficient instruction in the prescribed subjects of study, and such dormitory buildings as the county board of education of said county may require, and a farm of not less than ten acres of good arable land, said land to be situated not more than one mile from the school building; provided, however, that, before the county board of education of Guilford county shall designate any school as a place at which the agricultural and domestic science work shall become a part of the school curriculum, it shall first submit to the state superintendent of public instruction for his inspection and approval the equipment provided for said school.

Section 5. That the purpose of said school or schools is to give to the boys and girls such preparation as is now given in the said county public high schools, and, in addition to that, to give to the boys training in agricultural pursuits and farm life, and to prepare the girls for home-making and home-keeping.

Women and Society

Miss Douglas Hendrix entertained a number of friends yesterday at an afternoon tea, the occasion being for the purpose of announcing the engagement of two of Greensboro's most popular young people. The hours were from 4:30 to 6 o'clock, during which time a large number of the young people of the city called in response to invitations to learn the names of the young people referred to in the invitations.

The Hendrix home on Church street had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, the reception hall, parlor and other rooms being filled with a profusion of flowers, skillfully arranged by Mrs. Tom O'Connor.

The guests were met at the door by Masters James Hendrix and Emmett Barker, who received the cards. Mrs. J. M. Hendrix received in the reception hall and ushered the guests into the parlor.

Receiving in the parlor, which was decorated in yellow and green, the scheme being effected with yellow jonquils, yellow and green candles and shades, there being green shades over the chandelier, also, were Miss Hendrix, wearing cream satin with pink and blue chiffon draping; Miss Marjorie Long, wearing white satin, draped with Helen rose marquette and carrying American Beauty roses; Miss Margaret Wharton, wearing Persian silk, draped with white chiffon; Miss Mary Vanstort, wearing yellow satin; Miss May Norris Richardson, wearing blue satin with Persian draperies; Miss Mary Benbow, wearing pink chiffon; Miss Jessie Wharton, of Butte, Montana, wearing violet satin with blue and gold draperies.

Mrs. E. P. Wharton met the guests at the dining room door and ushered them into the dining room where Mrs. J. A. Kleemeier and Mrs. E. W. McNairy poured tea. Refreshments, consisting of tea, sandwiches, crystalized violets, almonds, etc., were served by Misses Annie Merritt, Stella Smith, Marguerite Callum. The decorations in this room were effected by the use of a profusion of violets. The candles and chandelier were shaded in green. The sideboard was banked with violets and the corners of the table were caught with violet tulle and baby ribbon tied to small green baskets filled with violets. From the chandelier was suspended a green basket filled with violets, this being held by baby ribbon. In the center of the table were two purple hearts of violets, pieced with a white arrow.

Tied to the handle of each tea cup was a small bunch of violets, to which was attached a gold decorated heart on which was written the announcement of the engagement of Miss Marjorie Long to Charles D. Benbow, Jr. The hearts were decorated to represent cupids dressed as brides.

The guests were shown into the punch room by Miss Maie Hendrix where Misses Marion Lea and Maie Lindley received. The decorations in this room were red, the mantle being banked with red flowers and the shades on the candles were of this color also. The punch table, which was presided over by Misses Frances Long and Jennie Vanstort, was decorated with red flowers.

In the reception hall, where the decorations were effected with white hyacinths, the bride's book was stationed. Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw and Miss Bessie Battle presided over the book and as the guests departed each wrote her good wish for the bride.

For the wedding, which will occur in West Market Street Methodist church on April 6, Miss Douglas Hendrix will be maid of honor and Misses Margaret Wharton, Mary Vanstort, May Norris Richardson, Mary Benbow will be bridesmaids.

On next Tuesday afternoon Miss Margaret Wharton will entertain in honor of Miss Long and Miss Jessie Wharton, of Butte, Montana, who is the guest of Miss Wharton.

Reason Enough.

A negro near Xenia, O., had been arrested for chicken stealing. He had stolen so many that his crime had become grand larceny.

He was tried, convicted and brought in for sentence. "Have you any reason to offer why the judgment of the court should not be passed upon you?" he was asked.

"Well, judge," he replied, "I can't go to jail now, nohow. I'm buildin' a shack out yonder, and I jes' can't go till I git it done. You all kin sholy see dat."—Pittsburg Press.

The Debt Was Forgotten.

Trotter—Why haven't you been in to see me lately?

Bailaw—Well—er—the truth is I was afraid that you might regard my visit as a reminder of the money you owe me.

Trotter—Why, my dear fellow, I had forgotten all about it. Sorry it troubled you.

Those present were Mr. Cook and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Buhmann, Miss Clarence Buhmann, Miss Annie Lea, Miss Cauble, Mrs. Janie Foushee, Dr. Rigdon Dees, J. B. Merritt.

Centenary Philathea.

The Centenary Philathea class entertained last night in honor of St. Patrick's day. The Sunday school room was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Miss Minnie Richardson sang several Irish songs which were enjoyed. Mrs. Robert Rives gave a very interesting sketch of St. Patrick. The merry crowd indulged in various Irish contests resulting in Miss Bertha Jones winning out in the pipe hunting contest, Miss Norman in the potato rolling contest, and Miss Ruth Phipps in the pig tail contest.

The class served refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake.

Curious Rent.

At Broughton, near Brigg, in Lincolnshire, England, some lands are held by the following tenure: "Every year on Palm Sunday a person from Broughton enters the church porch at Caister having a green silk purse containing 2 shillings and a penny tied up at the end of a cart whip, which he cracks three times in the porch and stays there until the second lesson begins. Then he enters the church and cracks the whip again, finally depositing the purse and contents."

The Brain's Eye.

R. W. Doyme in the Medical Record says "eye" really exists in the brain. It is, in fact, a very compound thing, a subconscious brain judgment involving many other organs than the actual anatomical eyes. It involves knowledge, experience, very largely the sense of touch and sometimes the sense of hearing or smell.

A Vast Desert Sepulcher.

There is an extraordinary necropolis at Bahrein, the famous center of the Persian gulf pearl fisheries. The tombs stretch for miles into the interior of Bahrein. The origin of the necropolis is to a great extent a mystery, but primitive civilization probably first began in this region, and possibly this desert sepulcher is the oldest piece of man's handiwork in the world. Some of the mounds are fifty feet high; the remainder vary from thirty to twenty feet. There are usually two chambers to each mound, an upper and a lower. It is believed that the mounds were originally higher, and palms were growing on the tops of some of them in the time of Alexander the Great, but the palms have long since disappeared, and in the course of ages the summits have been worn smooth.

A Strenuous Welcome.

The Kurds have a very curious and somewhat dangerous marriage custom, which most people will think would be more honored in the breach than in the observance. The husband, surrounded by a body-guard of twenty or thirty young men, carries his wife home on his back in a scarlet cloth and is desperately assaulted the whole way by a number of girls. Sticks and stones are hurled at the bridegroom, who in the coming home with his bride can scarcely be considered a very happy man, for the irate amazons often inflict on him marks which he carries to his grave.

Liked Good Cooking.

One day when Mrs. Green was tired and ill and her little four-year-old son had been pestering her with questions she suddenly lost patience and said to him:

"Johnnie, I have asked you fifty times to be quiet. If you don't give mamma a little rest some day she will go away and never come back."

"I'd be sorry for that," said Johnnie, in a cool, calculating tone, "for then I s'pose Aunt Addie would come and keep house for us, and Aunt Addie is not a good cooker."—New York Times.

Got It In Sections.

An American wag and an Irishman were talking of their vocal powers.

Said the American, "The first time I sang they showered me with bouquets."

"Faith," said the Irishman, "the first time I sang 'twas in an open air concert, and they presented me with a house. But, begorra, it was a brick at a time."

MILLINERY!

Despite the extreme cold weather yesterday, Mrs. E. F. Pate's millinery opening was well attended and highly complimented, for the style and beauty of her hats, and the prices were very attractive. Small and large hats both are good, a matter of choice with the wearer. This popular establishment is always at the front with a variety of the newest things in millinery at live and let live prices.

All the Same to Him.

Nine-year-old Richard has been longingly watching the Boys' club of his neighborhood, but the other boys have considered him too young. One day he entered the house triumphantly with "Oh, mother, I've joined the Boys' club, and I've been abbreviated!" "Been what?" "Oh, I don't mean abbreviated; I mean assassinated. I've been assassinated!"—St. Paul Dispatch.

L. J. BRANDT ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT OF ELKS ASSOCIATION

Durham, March 16.—The Elks adjourned this morning at 12:30 after two business and social sessions yesterday and last night, organizing a State association and making Exalted Ruler W. G. Bramham, of Durham, the unanimous choice for president of the new association.

More than two hundred delegates representing every lodge in the State and consisting of about one-fifth of the entire membership, attended the meeting yesterday. It was a most surprisingly large mid-winter meeting, the most enthusiastic Elk having no thought of such an outpouring. To the visitors the hosts were hospitable and one rarely hears such praise as was given the Durham lodge by those who came for a day.

The first business meeting was called yesterday shortly after noon and the state organization was formed. Mr. Bramham was made president, L. J. Brandt, of Greensboro, first vice-president; "Jim" Ferral, of Raleigh, second vice-president; L. B. Markham, this city, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided at this meeting that the Elks of the State should go in a body to Atlantic City and stop at the same hotel. The western division will go over the Southern, and the route of the eastern Elks will be over the Seaboard and to Atlantic City over the Pennsylvania.

The committee appointed to confer with the railways and hotels is composed of W. G. Bramham, chairman; J. D. McNeill, George Matton, Louis Goodman and J. W. Thomas. These will make the final arrangements as to the transportation and lodging while away.

Representatives were here from the Norfolk Southern, Norfolk & Western, the Coast Line, the Seaboard, the Southern and the Pennsylvania. While they could not give the rates of the roads for the trip every assurance was offered that the trip will be made as low as possible. The Southern had two of its passenger agents here, both being enthusiastic Elks.

The Stage And Stage Folk

Miss Adams to Play in New York Park. Charles Frohman announced yesterday that for two months he had been working with Park Commissioner Charles B. Stover on plans for the open-air performance in one of the city parks this season or next of dramas and pageants not possible of production in an ordinary theatre.

The first of such open-air productions will be under the direction and with the personal co-operation of Miss Maude Adams, who will appear in a historic pageant or al fresco Shakespearean performance similar in scale to her production of "Joan of Arc" in the Stadium of Harvard University and of her "As You Like It" performance in the Greek Theatre of the University of California.—New York Sun.

POINTS ABOUT STAGE PEOPLE.

William H. Crane began his career on the stage as an apprentice in an opera company—the Holman Opera Company, a famous organization of its day. Now Mr. Crane is one of the most prominent comedians on the English-speaking stage, and he is helping the grandson of the man who gave him his first chance as an actor to make his way in his chosen profession. Arthur Holman has a role in "United States Minister Bedloe."

Miss Fanny Price, the leading comedienne in "The Follies," was formerly a Brooklyn (N. Y.) newsgirl.

Alfred Britton, of the Boston Players Stock Company, is putting the finishing touches to a play which he has written in his idle hours. He expects to have it finished in a week or so, and it may be given its first production in Baltimore. It is a three-act comedy.

Before "Bert" Williams took to the stage as a means of livelihood he was employed as a bellboy at Baldwin's Hotel, in San Francisco, Cal.

Miss Shirley Kellogg, who sings "They All Were Cheering Dixie," at Ford's, was formerly a school-teacher in Butte, Mont.

De Wolf Hopper a Baseball Booster.

De Wolf Hopper, who is starring this season in "A Matinee Idol," holds one title of which he is prouder of than any that the public has bestowed upon him because of his histrionic ability. It is that of "The greatest baseball fan in the world." Mr. Hopper comes by this title honestly. Years ago, when baseball was under a cloud because of the rascality that had been proved against some of its foremost promoters, De Wolf Hopper remained loyal in his allegiance to the great American game, and by his daily attendance at the old Polo grounds in New York city and his enthusiastic "rooting" for the home team and his generous applause for all good plays by the members of the opposing teams, kept public interest of the metropolis in baseball not only alive but on the increase. It was about the time when Mr. Hopper first recited that most famous of all baseball classics, "Casey at the Bat."

Warning to Railroad Men

Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad work. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad work left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Howard Gardner.

NEWS OF SPORTS

Wilmington to Have Amateur League This Summer.

Wilmington, March 16.—As it seems practically certain that Wilmington will not be among the professional baseball towns this season, a number of local fans are now busying themselves in the organization of a city league, which promises a class of ball almost up to that in the Eastern Carolina League last season. The league will be composed of four teams, representing the Atlantic Coast Line general offices, Y. M. C. A., Wilmington Light Infantry and the Boys' Brigade. The diamond will probably be on the grounds of the Wilmington Driving Association, east of the city.

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASM AT ELIZABETH CITY.

Eastern Carolina Team Enters the Tidewater League With Virginia Cities.

Elizabeth City, March 16.—The local fans are simply delighted that Elizabeth City will take the franchise offered here in the Tidewater League and baseball is the topic of the day.

Elizabeth City now goes into a fast baseball league, composed of the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Suffolk, and Old Point. That some great ball will be seen in this city during the season there is no doubt and the lovers of the national sport are delighted beyond expression.

The metropolis of Eastern Carolina will be in the game and she is going in to it with a determination and the typical Tar Heel spirit to win or die. The Virginia rivals will have to keep their eyes on Betsy town.

$20,000 COST OF RED SOX TRAINING TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST.

Los Angeles, March 16.—The Red Sox coast-to-coast trip is one of the greatest and most expensive ever taken by a baseball team in the history of the game. Before Manager Donovan and his men get back to Boston they will have traveled more than 8,200 miles; the players will have passed through 117 states and two territories.

Treasurer Hugh McBreen with the Red Sox party estimates that the trip will cost $20,000. The White Sox transcontinental hike cost Comiskey $14,000. The railroad fare alone will stand John I. Taylor, owner of the Red Sox, $12,000, not including berths and Pullman service. The team will play 70 games during the training season. Money from this source will greatly reduce the expense account.

$50,000 BUILDING FOR SCHOOLS OF MEDICINE AND PHARMACY WILL BE ERECTED AT UNIVERSITY

Raleigh, March 16.—The executive committee of the board of trustees of the University of North Carolina met in the Governor's office yesterday. There were present: Governor Kitchin, Col. Thomas S. Kenan, Mr. R. H. Battle, Mr. R. T. Gray, Mr. Claudius Dockery, Dr. James Y. Joyner, Col. J. Bryan Grimes, Mr. Josephus Daniel, and President Francis P. Venable, of the University.

It was decided at once to give a contract for the erection of a building on the campus at the University for the Schools of Medicine and Pharmacy. This new building is to cost $50,000 and will be erected east of the Carr Building, fronting Davis Hall, which is otherwise known as the Biological Building. The new building will be known as the "Caldwell Building," in honor of Dr. Joseph Caldwell, the first president of the University. The Governor, who is chairman ex-officio of the board of trustees, was authorized to appoint a building committee of five, who will award the contract. He was also authorized to appoint a visiting committee, whose duty it shall be to visit the University next month and make a report on the condition and needs of that institution, at the June meeting.

Plans were approved for the inauguration of the new and important Teachers' Training Department of the School of Education. The increase in the number of students studying to become teachers is marked this year and the University will enlarge this department and add the Teachers' Training Department so as to open its advantages to teachers in the public schools of the State. This is the most needed department of public education and the University has other plans, which will be announced later, to make it useful in advancing public education more than at any time during its history.

PNEUMONIA.

The Importance of Fresh Air in Treating This Disease.

In talking of pneumonia to people in general it is necessary to say and repeat many times that pneumonia is not a bad cold run mad, for this conviction appears to be invincibly lodged in the lay mind.

Pneumonia is first, last and all the time an acute local disease of the lungs, which, according to the gravity of the case, become more or less consolidated or choked up. The more of the lung tissue that is thus choked the less the lungs are able to breathe. The first consequence of this helplessness on the part of the lungs is that the heart—that gallant organ—labors to get enough blood to keep things going, and this is why we see the distressing rapid and shallow breathing so characteristic of the disease.

With all the heart can do it can only pump blood; it cannot oxygenate it—that is the function of the lungs. Presently, therefore, the blood stream becomes more and more impure, owing to lack of oxygen, and in those cases ending in death one of two things happens—either the heart gives out entirely, unable to stand the strain put upon it, or else the system is overcome by toxins—that is to say, by the impurity induced by the lack of oxygenation.

It has long been recognized that what the pneumonia patient needs is oxygen, and we are now sure that this is best supplied by a direct current of fresh air from outside and that this fresh air should be the basis of all treatment from the very beginning.

Too often has life been lost by a failure to recognize this truth or by a belief that rushing in canned oxygen at the last moment would effect a cure. There is less pneumonia among country dwellers than among city people. There is less pneumonia among people who ventilate well than among the stuffy. And there is less pneumonia in the summer than in the winter, because in the summer there is free circulation of air through all our houses. The ideal treatment of pneumonia is to carry the patient into the open air and keep him there with proper precautions against wind and weather. But as this cannot always be done the patient can at least be placed in the largest, sunniest and best ventilated room in the house. If possible a room with windows on two sides is much to be preferred to one which can be opened only to one point of the compass. By a system of screening it can always be managed that a direct current of very cold air shall not blow right on the bed, but the air of the room should be constantly renewed and always cool.

Of all "cranks" the "fresh air crank" is the sanest, and his reward in the pneumonia sickroom is a rich one.—Youth's Companion.

FROM SUNSHINE LAND

Cottolene is a vegetable product—without an ounce of hog fat in it. It is made from the choicest cotton oil, extracted from the seed picked on the fields of the Sunny South. It is a product of Nature, and makes wholesome, digestible, healthful food.

Cottolene is made in a cleanly matter—from Cottonfield to Kitchen human hands never touch the oil from which Cottolene is made. It is the one high-grade, absolutely pure and perfect cooking fat—and far preferable from a health and economic standpoint to lard, cooking butter or any other fat.

There is but one Cottolene—we make it. All good grocers sell it.

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS.

Lo, in the vale of years beneath
A grisly troop are seen
The painful family of Death,
More hideous than their queen.
This racks the joints, this fires the veins,
That every laboring sinew strains.
These in the deeper vitals rage,
Lo, poverty to fill the band.
That humps the soul with icy hand,
And slow consuming age!

To each his sufferings. All are men,
Condemned alike to groan,
The tender for another's pain,
The unfeeling for his own.
Yet, ah, why should they know their fate,
Since sorrow never comes too late
And happiness too swiftly flies?
Thought would destroy their paradise
No more. Where ignorance is bliss
'Tis folly to be wise.
—Thomas Gray.

WYNKEN, BLYNKEN AND NOD.

WYNKEN, Blynken and Nod one night
Sailed off in a wooden shoe—
Sailed on a river of crystal light
Into a sea of dew.
"Where are you going, and what do you wish?"
The old moon asked the three.
"We have come to fish for the herring fish."
That live in this beautiful sea.
Nets of silver and gold have we,"
Said Wynken, Blynken
And Nod.

THE old moon laughed and sang a song
As they rocked in the wooden shoe,
And the wind that sped them all night long
Ruffled the waves of dew.
The little stars were the herring fish
That lived in the beautiful sea.
"Now cast your net wherever you wish—Never afraid are we!"
So cried the stars to the fishermen three.
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

ALL night long their nets they threw
To the stars in the twinkling foam.
Then down from the skies came the wooden shoe.
Bringing the fishermen home.
"Twas all so pretty a-sail, it seemed
As if it could not be,
And some folk thought 'twas a dream
Of sailing that beautiful sea,
But I shall name you the fishermen three—
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

WYNKEN and Blynken are two little
And Nod is a little head,
And the wooden shoe that sailed the skies
Is a wee one's trundle bed.
So shut your eyes while mother sings
Of wonderful sights that be,
And you shall see the beautiful things
As you rock on the misty sea,
Where the old shoe rocked the fishermen three—
Wynken,
Blynken
And Nod.

SHINE JUST WHERE YOU ARE.

DON'T waste your time in longing
For bright, impossible things.
Don't sit supinely yearning
For the swiftness of wings.
Don't spurn to be a rushlight
Because you are not a star.
But brighten some bit of darkness
By shining just where you are.
There is need of the tiniest candle
As well as the garish sun.
The humblest need is ennobled
When it is worthily done.
You may never be called to brighten
The darkened regions afar,
So fill for the day your mission
By shining just where you are.

Unreasonable.

Dr. Jameson was commissioner in Rhodesia in the old days when men carried their lives pretty much in their hands. One day a man in a terrible state of fear and excitement rode pellmell into Salisbury and burst into Dr. Jameson's room.
"Doctor!" he panted. "Doctor! I've killed a native! He—he cheeked me, and I hit him and killed him. He's dead—he's dead!" And the wretched man himself looked half dead with fear.

Dr. Jameson was sprawling in a lounge chair with his feet on the table. He looked up with a puzzled frown.

"Well, what have you come to me for?" he wanted to know. "Do you expect me to bury him?"—London Tit-Bits.

Tipping Is of Ancient Origin.

Tipping is by no means a modern nuisance and, in fact, seems to have been even worse in the good old times than it is today. The views of George I. on the subject have fortunately been reported by Walpole. "This is a strange country," remarked his majesty. "The first morning after my arrival at St. James' I looked out of the window and saw a park, with walks and a canal, which they told me were mine. The next day Lord C., the manager of my park, sent me a fine brace of carp out of my canal, and I was told that I must give 5 guineas to his servant for bringing me my own carp, out of my own canal, in my own park."—New York Tribune.

CALIFORNIA ADOPTS INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

Sacramento, Cal., March 16.—A bill providing for the initiative, referendum and recall for municipalities was signed by Governor Johnson yesterday. It will become a law in sixty days.

The bill provides for recall elections for elective municipal officers after they have held office for four or more months on petition of 25 per cent of the voters of the town. The officer against whom the recall is directed is made a candidate for re-election.

Municipal legislation may be initiated on petition of 25 per cent of the voters. Unless the city council passes the proposed legislation it shall be submitted at a special election within thirty days.

If the petition carries signatures of only ten per cent of the voters the proposed law shall be submitted at the next regular election, unless passed by the council in the meantime.

The Guilford County Poultry Association will meet in regular session this evening at 8 o'clock and the members are asked to attend.

NEW YORK'S HARBOR.

The Great Upper Bay Which Lies Just Above the Narrows.

New York harbor is divided by the Narrows, that channel passage between Staten Island and Brooklyn, into two bays, the upper and lower, much like a huge dumbbell, save that the lower bay is the larger, extending south from quarantine to Sandy Hook, west to Raritan bay and merging eastward with the open Atlantic. The great volume of the Hudson, pouring past Manhattan Island, through the upper bay and the Narrows, deposits its load of soil in this lower bay, where red buoys mark the difficult channel and the larger liners sometimes go aground in the fog. It is seventeen miles as the crow flies from the New York city hall to Sandy Hook light. It is only six miles to St. George, Staten Island, which marks the head of the Narrows.

The upper bay, or the harbor proper, is thus far removed from the open sea. It is almost a lake, some five miles on either diameter, made by the confluence of the Hudson and East rivers. Within its area and in the rivers on either side of that long, narrow strip of dividing rock called Manhattan Island, half the water commerce of a continent is conducted, and over it on ferryboats or under it in steel and concrete tubes daily pass so many thousands of people that the head is dizzy reckoning their number.

At the head of it rises that Andean range of skyscrapers on the southern nose of Manhattan, man's mightiest material accomplishment since the pyramids. Over it drifts the smoke from a myriad chimneys on the shore, a myriad funnels on the water. Yet the sea fog works up through the Narrows with the smell of brine; a coast schooner beats in under dirty canvas, with a broken wing, perhaps, from some wild gale off Hatteras; the brilliant sun flashes from a gull's breast and the steel gray, dancing waves—and the call of the deep comes over you. Your eye and your heart follow that steamer dropping down channel with the tide. You feel, as the wash of the liner gently jiggles your ferryboat, the heave and swing of the long Atlantic rollers.—Walter Prichard Eaton in Scribner's Magazine.

A Modest Scientist.

Modesty was a prominent feature in the character of the eminent physicist, J. Willard Gibbs, for many years professor of mathematical physics at Yale. He had a just appreciation of the value of his own discoveries, says the author of the biographical sketch of Professor Gibbs contained in "Leading American Men of Science," but shrank from any form of praise or publicity. In 1901 the Copley medal of the Royal Society of London, which is awarded for the most important scientific work done in any country, was given to Mr. Gibbs. He deprecated the congratulations of his friends who had read the announcement.

"Better not say anything about it," he urged. "Very likely it is an error."

Trenton, N. J., March 15.—The regular members of the New Jersey State Bar Association will meet here next year if a bill passed by the legislature here is passed. The committee of the Bar Association has started a campaign to get the bill and all the members in the State will join. The measure provides for the appointment of women to the bar in every municipality. It is not framed with the view of having the women perform the functions now performed by the male officers, but it may be assigned for all moving pictures, parks, recreation centers. In twelve cities in the State the plan of having women been tried with excellent results according to the supporters.

People Slow in Paying

Sheriff Jones and deputy need the work preliminary to the sale of property on which taxes have not been paid. The costs are added after March 15 and the property to be advertised for to the sale. While it is possible that the sheriff may extend the time for the sale, the sheriff has no authority to proceed with the advertisement. It is officially notified that no action has been taken regarding the matter. Taxes for 1910 were due on March 15 and the law requires that they be paid before the cost is added. The taxpayers of the city have paid over half the total amount due. The taxpayers have settled the matter.
